

Guidance and Training Allows Focus on Day to Day Operations

"The support given by Second Foundation was critical to our business. They fixed the problems and more importantly provided proper training and guidance to allow us to focus on our day to day business,"

-Peter Tudisco, President, Buon Vino

Peter and Anthony Tudisco are at the helm of the business started by their father Fred in 1981. The family is continuing to grow the market for their premium electric wine filters and related wine making products both domestically and internationally. To support the company's growth it became necessary to upgrade Buon Vino's Accpac Plus software to the latest Windows version. "We initially started the process with another service provider. We learned a hard lesson. We turned to Second Foundation to help get us out of the mess that was originally created," says Anthony Tudisco, Vice President. At the time, Buon Vino was entering its' busiest time of the year, and the business system was not working.

The team at Second Foundation immediately started to solve the problem. With extensive product and business expertise, they were able to quickly identify the problems in the original implementation and fix them. The software was setup to suit Buon Vino's specific needs and missing modules were added, making the system work the way the Tudisco's had expected. "The support given by Second Foundation was critical to our business. They fixed the problems and more importantly provided proper training and guidance to allow us to focus on our day to day business," states Buon Vino's President, Peter. The team at Second Foundation Consulting solve business pains by applying their expertise using powerful business tools from Microsoft®, Epicor® and Sage.
